12. Overall game observations so far. u6 is having low team turnouts occasionally but they are having fun and learning. u9 games are mostly competitive and players are starting to figure out how to play together. Have personally observed, intervened, been spoken to on several occasions regarding parents being critical of coaching, players, etc. Some coaches are on the verge of not returning in the future since parents can't be quite for 1 hour, 3 times a week. I haven't watched much of u12 or u18 games but haven't heard anything negative to date. Anyone else?

Open Discussion
